

NEW SCIENTIST

CONTENIDO

VOLUME 214 No. 2867, JUNE, 2 2012

CONTENTS

NEWS

- 6 Hydrogen superhighway.
Vast bridge of gas connects two galaxies.

ON THE COVER

- 36 Dark magnetism.
Something else is pulling the cosmos apart.

- 6 Hydrogen highway.
Vast bridge of gas connects two galaxies.

- 44 Crossing the sun.
Venus gets ready.

- 40 Grow me a vaccine.
Pharming takes off.

- 32 Living with the dead.
Tombs or houses?

- 30 Instant expert.
Meet the man who'll smash all the records.

FEATURES

- 40 Grow me a vaccine.
The pharming revolution begins.

NEWS

- 4 UPFRONT
Telescope contest ends in draw. Climate's death toll. Fukushima residents 'ok for now'.

- 6 THIS WEEK
Platelets' part in cancer. Private spaceflight comes of age. Needlefree injections remove pain. Birds have baby dino brains. A hot world is a toxic world. Time flows uphill for the Yupno. Immune cells sculpt brain circuits.

- 17 IN BRIEF
Solar system's outermost ocean. Mixed news for life on Mars. DNA 'Lego' makes shapes.

TECHNOLOGY

- 21 New way to search. Pollution-sniffing robofish. Adaptive touchscreen typing. Stinking warfare. Kinect finds your wallet.

APERTURE

- 26 Giant Japanese earthquake-testing tables.

OPINION

- 28 Uncharted territory.
Let's work out who owns space minerals, says Paul Marks.

- 29 One minute with... Tom Davies.
Light pollution affects insects too.

- 30 Ultimate free fall.
33 kilometres up, Felix Baumgartner will leap out of his balloon...

- 32 Living with the dead.
We've got Europe's Stone Age wrong, says Julian Thomas.

- 34 LETTERS
Peak oil? Feathery dinos.

FEATURES

- 36 Dark magnetism.
(see above left)

- 40 Grow me a vaccine.
(see left).

- 44 Crossing the sun.
Venus gets ready to reveal her secrets.

INSTANT EXPERT

Alan Turing.
The man who invented the modern world.

CULTURELAB

- 48 In the science garden.
Not just for kids. PLUS: When scientists get nasty.

- 49 Caw blimey.

Brainy crows. PLUS: The physical web.

50 Future books.
Death of the printed word?

REGULARS

3 Editorial.
The venerable tradition of Venusian transits.

34 Enigma

56 Feedback
Ever more elephants on minis.

57 The Last Word
Getting lippy.

52 Jobs & Careers.