

COMPUTER GRAPHICS WORLD

CONTENIDO

VOLUME 33, No. 10 OCTOBER 2010

DEPARTMENTS

Editor's Note

Which Flavor Are You?

- 2 Are you a Mac fan, or do you prefer a PC? And, what to your computing and mobile choices say about you?

SPOTLIGHT

- 3 Products Maxon's Cinema 4D 12. AMD's ATI FirePro V9800. The Foundry's Nuke 6.1. Imageworks OpenColor10. OptiTrack0s Insight Flame Premium 2011. NewTek's LighWave 10.

Viewpoint

- 8 Bridging something new with CG.

Review

- 46 Nvidia Quadro 5000.

Back Products

- 47 Recent software releases.

FEATURES

Cover story

In Fine Feather.

- 12 Animal Logic creates a nest of owl species for the CG animated feature Legend of the Guardian.
Barbara Robertson.

Shaped by Numbers.

- 17 Computational design provides a recipe for producing some unique and unexpected results.
Kenneth Wing.

The Comic Connection.

- 22 Comic-book characters are more popular than ever, especially when it comes to film and games, but transforming these heroes and villains from 2D to 3D can be difficult.

John Gaudiosi.

Inside Track.

- 28 Researchers and surgeons are seeing data like never before inside a VR Cave at Cornell's medical college.

Barbara Robertson.

Fur Less.

- 34 Tippett artists develop new techniques to create the hairless cat Kitty Galore for the CG animated movie Cats & Dogs 2.

Karen Moltenbrey.

Living the Animation Dream.

- 42 A young animator wins an Annie Award for his work on the animated TV special Mutant Pumpkins from Outer Space.

Barbara Robertson.

ON THE COVER

Animal Logic places another feather in its cap as the studio produces numerous species of CG owls, including 10 primary owl characters, for the animated feature. Legend of the Guardian: The Owls of Ga' Hoole. See pg. 12.