

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC

CONTENIDO

VOLUME 218 No. 2, AUGUST 2010

- 34      Deep Dark Secrets.
Scientists dive into the deadly blue holes of the Bahamas.
Andree Todhunder.
Photographs by Wes C. Skiles.
- 54      The Iron silk Road.
A new Europe – to – Asia railway fuels trade — and tensions.
Brett Forrest.
Photographs by Alex Webb.
- 80      Reviving Native Lands.
U.S. tribes strive to undo years of environmental abuse.
Charles Bowden.
Photographs Jack Dykinga.
- 98      A Grassland Kingdom.
India's Kaziranga park shelters tigers, buffalo, and rhinos.
Douglas H. Chadwick.
Photographs Steve Winter.
- 118      Valley of the Whales.
The origins of the marine mammal lie buried in Egyptian sand.
Tom Mueller.
Photographs Richard Barnes.

DEPARTMENTS

- 4      Editor's Note.
- 8      Letters.
- 12      Your Shot.
- 14      Vision of Earth.

WILD

Coyote Savvy, Wolf Skills.

The hybrid eastern coyote hunts deer and rabbits. Should your Chihuahua be worried too?

GEOGRAPHY

Ready, Set... Map.

Senator Al Franklin can draw the U.S. in minutes. It's a parlor trick — but also a useful skill.

FOSSILS

Tail Power.

The glyptodont, an ancient armadillo kin, deftly swung its spiked hind part.

OCEANS

Squid on the Fly.

The jumbo flying squid lives a fast and furious life — and it's heading up the California coast.

ARCHAEOLOGY

A Round Ark.

A Babylonian tablet offers a different shape for the animal — filled vessel in Flood lore.

THE BIG IDEA

30

Carbon Capture.

“Artificial trees” might suck planet – warming CO<sub>2</sub> out of the air faster than real ones.

138

Inside Geographic.

Flashback.

GeoPuzzle.

ON THE COVER

Extreme climate shifts forged this ancient Bahamian cave as seas rose and fell. Extreme danger awaits divers who explore it.

Photo by Wes C. Skiles.