

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC

CONTENIDO

VOLUME 218 No. 6, DICEMBER 2010

- 28      Veiled Rebellion.
Afghan women are starting to fight for a just life.
Elizabeth Rubin.
Photographs by Lynsey Addario.
- 54      A Serenade to Swans.
The whooper swan is a bird to inspire flights of fancy.
Cathy Newman.
Photographs by Stefano Unterthiner.
- 66      David And Solomon.
Archaeologists dig up controversy as they dig into the kings.
Robert Draper.
Photographs by Greg Girard.
- 92      Heart of the Milky Way.
The black hole at the galaxy's center is giving up its secrets.
Ken Croswell.
- 100     Alaska's Choice.
In Bristol Bay, the debate is on: gold mine versus salmon runs.
Edwin Dobb.
Photographs by Michael Melford.
- 126     Bat Crash.
A fungus has killed at least one million U.S. bats.
David Quammen.
Photographs by Stephen Alvarez.

DEPARTMENTS

- 4      Editor's Note.
- 6      Letters.
- 11     Your Shot.
- 12     Vision of Earth.

GEOGRAPHY

Why a Watch Is Useless in Antarctica.

The world's 24 time zones converge at the South Pole. That's a dilemma for visitors who want to set a clock.

CONSERVATION

Serengeti Road.

A proposed highway could endanger great herds of wildebeests, zebras, and gazelles as they leave Tanzania each May for Kenya.

WILD

A Nest of Petals.

A loner bee found in Turkey and Iran deconstructs flowers to build a shelter for its larvae. Once hardened, the nest is humid inside, strong outside — and absolutely beautiful.

THE BIG IDEA

24

Gaudi's Masterpiece.

His brilliantly conceived church in Barcelona has been under construction for 128 years. And it's still far from done.

138

Explores Journal.

146

Inside Geographic.

Flashback.

GeoPuzzle.

ON THE COVER

In this painting by Peter Paul Rubens, circa 1616, the biblical king-to-be is poised to wield the sword he took from Goliath. .

Art: Norton Simon Foundation.