

SMITHSONIAN

CONTENIDO

VOLUMEN 41, No. 10, FEBRUARY 2011

FEATURES

- 28 Warsaw on the Rise.
A new crop of dazzling skyscrapers symbolizes the Polish capital's effort to rebuild its downtrodden image and become a star of Eastern Europe.
Ridolph Chelminski, Photographs by Tomas Van Houtryve.
- 36 Snow Phantom.
Scientists in Montana study the elusive lynx in its wintry haunts. Their goal: save the "ghost cat".
Abigail Tucker Photographs by Ted Wood.
- 44 The Reluctant President.
On Inaugurations Day 1789, perhaps the only person to doubt George Washington's ability to lead the nation was Washington.
Ron Chernow.
- 54 Flower Power.
In Colombia, the growing of blooms for export has become big business. Just look at the bouquets in your supermarket.
John McQuaid.
Photographs by Ivan Kashinsky.
- 66 Wayne Thiebaud Is Not a Pop Artist.
He's best known for his bright, spare paintings of pastries and cakes, but they represent only a slice of the American master's work.
Cathleen McGuigan.
- 74 Invisible Glory.
In out-of-world images, the Chandra and Spitzer space telescopes show us parts of the universe not on our wavelength.
Abigail Tucker.

DEPARTMENTS

- 5 From the Editor.
FRESH EYES.
- 6 Letters.
"THE GIFT".
- 8 Your Smithsonian.com

EL PASO, TEXAS.

- 10 Indelible Images.
DOWNHILL.
At a shopping mall in Dubai, Joel Sternfeld documents a peak of consumer culture.
David Zax.
- 12 Wild Things.
GUARD BIRD.
- 15 Interview.
JANE MCGONICAL
Score one for video gaming.
Interview by Amanda Bensen.
- 16 This Month in History.
DARWIN EVOLVES.
- 18 My Kind of Town.
NATURE BOY
The author finds inspiration — and wildlife — at his doorstep, near Santa Barbara, California.
T. C. Boyle.
- 21 Around the Mall.
BOOT CAMP.
22 From the Castle. Trail blazing.
24 The Object at Hand. Lincoln's Fence Rail.
25 Q&A Bill Moggridge.
26 What's Up. Jewel of a "Snowflake".
- 80 Presence of Mind.
BATTLE STATION
For World War II naval historian Samuel Eliot Morison, armchair research was not enough.
James D. Hornfisher.
- 96 Last Page.
Together, at last.

ON THE COVER

A 9-year-old girl sells roses in Bogotá Most cut flowers bought in the United States are grown in Colombia.

Photograph by Ivan Kashinsky.

This page.

Washington, seen in circa 1795 painting by Gilbert Stuart, was treated like a king at his inauguration.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art / Art Resource, NY.