

SMITHSONIAN

CONTENIDO

VOLUMEN 42 No. 6, OCTOBER 2011

FEATURES

- 48 The Jaguar Freeway.
Conservationists believe that creating a network of wildlife corridors in Latin America will ensure the great feline's future.
Sharon Guynup, Photographs by Steve Winter.
- 58 What Became of the Taíno?
Five centuries after Columbus came to the New World, our reporter looks for descendants of the people who greeted the explorer.
Robert M. Poole Photographs by Maggie Steber.
- 72 Change Agent.
A painter of both figurative and abstract works, Willem de Kooning never stopped experimenting, as a new exhibition illustrates.
Mark Stevens.
- 82 The Passion of Madame Curie.
On the centenary of her second Nobel Prize, the physicist who discovered radioactivity is getting a serious second look.
Julie des Jardins.
- 92 Cocktails in Greenland.
Climate change has turned the once forbidding landmass into an exotic port of call — with all the creature comforts
Joseph Stromberg. Photographs by Alban Kakulya.
- 98 The Great Pumpkin.
Vegetable growers from Nova Scotia to Washington State are closing in on an elusive goal — the one-ton squash.
Brendan Borrell. Photographs by Greg Ruffing.

DEPARTMENTS

- 8 From the Editor.
GREAT CATS.
- 14 Letters.
“LEAKS AND THE LAW”.
- 16 Indelible Images.

INNOCENCE ABROAD.

Neither Ruth Orkin nor her subject-an American art student-realized the stir their collaboration would make.

David Schonauer.

21 This Month in History.
MOUNT RUSHMORE.

22 Wild Things.
PLESIOSAUR MOMS.

25 Now on Our Website.

29 Phenomenon.
LUCKY BIRD.

A Buddhist monk in the Himalayas has taken the rare Tibetan bunting under his wing.

Phil Mckenna.

34 The Civil War.
SCATTERED ACTIONS.

37 Around the Mall.
MASS MOVENT.

38 From the Castle. Jefferson's Bible.

42 The Object at Hand. Ready for her close-up.

44 Q&A Al Worden.

47 What's Up. Pop-up Art.

108 Presence of Mind.
CROSSING THE COLOR LINE.

Fifty years after it was first published, Black Like Me remains a landmark document.

Bruce Watson.

124 The Last Page.
IDENTITY CRISIS.

Julia Anne Miller.

ON THE COVER

A Jaguar requires up to 100 square miles with sufficient prey to survive.

Photograph by Steve Winter / Panthera.

This page.

After a summer of coddling his giant pumpkin on the vine, a competitive gardener hauls his heavyweight champ to the scales.

Photograph by Greg Rufing/Redux.