

SMITHSONIAN

CONTENIDO

VOLUMEN 43, No. 6, OCTOBER 2012

CONTENTS

- 40 Master of Monticello.
A new examination of history challenges the long-held perception of Thomas Jefferson as a benevolent slaveholder.
Henry Wiencek.
- 39 The Great American History Puzzle.
See if you can crack the code on our nation's secret history and win a behind-the-scenes tour of the Smithsonian.
Ken Jennings.
- 50 Tom Sawyer Was Real.
The young hero in Mark Twain's novel was named for a firefighter that the humorist befriended during his days in San Francisco.
Robert Graysmith.
- 58 The Great Vampire Panic.
Acting on horrible super-stition", 19th century New Englanders took alarming measures to stop predications by the undead.
Abigail Tucker.
- 66 Photos That Prevented World War III.
While researching a book on the Cuban missile crisis, the writer uncovered spy images that could have changed history.
Michael Dobbs.
- 72 The Code Thief.
A CIA burglar who thrived on thrills took the biggest risk of his career when he complained about short-comings within his own agency.
David Wise.

DEPARTMENTS

- 2 Contributors.
- 4 Discussion.
- 9 From the Castle.
- 10 From the Editor.

- 11 Phenomenon.
Our theme this month is power, from T. rex jaws to JFK's previously unpublished views shared at a dinner party.
- 24 How Music Works.
David Byrne lauds sound, and silence.
- 33 Black Swifts.
Tracking the mysterious birds.
- 55 "Midafternoon Midsummer".
A new poem by Coleman Barks.
- 70 National Treasure.
A file cabinet that burglars looted summons memories of the secrets that led to Richard Nixon's resignation.
- 77 "Black Hands".
A new poem by Amit Majmudar.
- 80 Books.
- 84 Smithsonian.
What's new at the museums.
- 108 Fast Forward.