

NEW SCIENTIST

CONTENIDO

VOLUME 207 No. 2779, SEPTEMBER 2010

NEWS

- 4 UPFRONT
World's first cone transplant. Time to rename Stegosaurus? Hints of early universe at the Large Hadron Collider.
- 6 THIS WEEK
Judging mental maturity.
HIV may be deadly for millennia. Sun's role in climate illuminated. Arctic bugs may have world's longest life cycle. Space-time collapse: look closely and two dimensions vanish. Devilish row over proton halo.
Brain scans could reveal if a child is legally culpable of a crime.
- 12 FIELD NOTES
Louisiana's oysters balance on a knife-edge.
- 19 IN BRIEF
Aspirin reduces bowel cancer risk. Sexy daisies. Vacuum yields truly random numbers.
- 23 TECHNOLOGY
World's biggest floating vessel. Decepto-bots show theory of mind. Nokia's answer to Google Street View. Solar windmills in space.
- ### OPINION
- 5 EDITORIAL
Mental maturity on trail.
- 28 No miracle cure.
How did a drug not licensed for trauma still end up being used on patients worldwide, asks Ian Roberts.
- 29 One minute with...Dennis Crowley,
A co-founder of the Foursquare app, on location-based social networks and privacy.
- 31 LETTERS
Criminal minds. Brain Flip.
- 34 Why I am a possibilian.
When it comes to life's big questions we feel forced to choose between God or no God. Why, asks David Eagleman.

FEATURES

36 COVER STORY

Cosmic coincidences.

Ten improbable events that paved the way for our existence.

44 Hard-wired for happiness.

Positive emotions are part of what it means to be human.

48 Carbon farms.

Carbon capture is coming-but instead of shoving our CO₂ emissions underground, couldn't we recycle them?

CULTURELAB

REVIEWS

52 A future, darkly.

Persuasive as 2030: Technology that will Change the World and The World in 2050 seem, Chris Mooney is not convinced.

53 Real spin doctors.

White Coat, Black Hat paints a dark view of medicine's history.

54 Curvy inner space. Love and llamas.

REGULARS

31 Enigma

68 Feedback

High-tech plants.

69 The Last Word

Thingy spotting.

56 Jobs & Careers.

Coming next week...

Sharpen up!

Forget brain training. Here's what really works.

Instant expert: Extreme weather.

The latest in our monthly pull-out guides.