

NEW SCIENTIST

CONTENIDO

VOLUME 210 No. 2811, MAY, 7 2011

CONTENTS

NEWS

- 8 Teaching crops to grow fertiliser.
Cereals that produce fertiliser as legumes do could be on the horizon.

ON THE COVER

- 34 Limits of knowledge.
There are things we can never understand.

- 23 Do you speak dolphin?
Talking with cetaceans.

- 32 Updating Asimov's laws.
Ethics for artificial light.

- 44 Last hurrah.
Collider bows out in style.
Instant expert: Astrobiology.
Your pull-out guide.

FEATURES

- 44 Blue alert!
Artificial light messes with our body clocks and risks our health.

NEWS

- 6 UPFRONT
DNA identification of Osama bin Laden. Mystery of the cosmic-ray hotspots.
Eating local produce not necessarily best.

- 8 THIS WEEK
Building a mathematical superbrain. Hormone "pacemaker" could banish injections. Why do you remember your dreams? Dark matter may vary with seasons. Human migration and novelty-seeking genes.

- 20 IN BRIEF
Box jellyfish know which way is up. Morning heart attacks hot hardest. Toxic gas stops malaria in its tracks. How to balance in space.

TECHNOLOGY

- 23 Speaking with dolphins. 3D car adverts. Air-cooled power lines. Toughening networks one link at a time.

OPINION

- 5 EDITORIAL
Time to plant seeds of a new green revolution.

- 28 Whatever the weather.
The reliability of forecasts is still hard to measure, but the BBC has a plan to help, says Roger Harrabin.

- 29 One minute with... Raymond Mabus.
How to wean the US navy off fossil fuels.

- 30 LETTERS
On free will. Happiness, or not.

- 32 Roboethics, for humans.
Science fiction primes us to expect robots to run amok, but robots aren't the problem, says Alan Winfield.

FEATURES

- 34 Limits of knowledge.
(see left)

- 40 Partical smacher's last hurrah.
Fermilab's aging collider makes its bid for immortality.

- 44 Blue alert!
(see left).

INSTANT EXPERT

Astrobiology.
Your eight-page collectable guide to the quest for alien life.

CULTURELAB

REVIEWS.

- 48 Joy of being.
The Exultant Ark makes a good case for looking at animals differently, with images of their playfulness and pleasure.

- 49 Pox to pandemic.
The world of viruses is even more complex Than A Planet of Viruses captures. PLUS: Battery life. Maglev's future.

REGULARS

- 30 Enigma
- 64 Feedback
Phone fingers.
- 65 The Last Word
Happy feet.
- 50 Jobs & Careers.