

COMPUTER GRAPHICS WORLD

CONTENIDO

VOLUME 34, No. 7 OCTOBER/NOVEMBER 2011

DEPARTMENTS

Editor's Note

iCons and Icons.

- 2 The industry lost the creative genius behind Apple, Pixar, and more with the passing of Steve Jobs. Elsewhere, Terra Nova captures viewers' attention on TV, while Puss in Boots is poised to do likewise at the theater.

SPOTLIGHT

- 4 Products Adobe's Flash Player 11, AIR 3. Wacom's Cintiq24HD. HP's ZR line, LE2202x displays.
News Khronos enriches cross-platform 3D graphics with OpenGL 4.2. Graphics add-in board shipments decline CGW's SIGGRAPHIC Silver Edge Awards.

Portfolio

- 56 The Art of Pixar.

Review

- 60 Autodesk's 3ds Max 2012.

Back Products

- 28 Recent hardware and software releases.

FEATURES

Holy Frijole!

- 10 Puss in Boots gets a digital makeover after landing a starring role in a film with a large cast of unique characters, a beanstalk that shoots to the sky, and a world made of clouds.
Barbara Robertson.

Technical Snockout.

- 18 For Real Steel, robots perform admirably in the ring, thanks to image-based capture.
Barbara Robertson.

Cover story

Turning Back Time.

42 Terra Nova sets a high bar for visual effects on television, with stunning futuristic and prehistoric settings, and numerous dinosaurs.

Courtney Howard.

Digital Fine Art.

46 Re-creating China's ancient past using 21st century computer technology.

Doug King.

Also:

49 From Ground Zero.

52 Scared Silly.

62 Growth in the Market.

ON THE COVER

Visual effects studio Pixomondo resurrected dinosaurs from the past for the new Fox television series Terra Nova, a sci-fi drama set in the future. See pg. 10.