

DISCOVER

CONTENIDO

VOLUME 31 No. 5, JUNE 2010

- 34 Leaf Power.
With photosynthesis, nature has energy all figured. Out. Now scientists in the lab are trying to match nature at this game.
Fred Guterl.
- 38 Micro Nukes.
Could nuclear power make a big comeback in a new, scaled-down format?
David H. Freedman.
- 42 New Coal.
Using off-the- shelf technology, a new energy firm says it can take the dirty out of coal and make a lot of money along the way.
Michael Lemonick.
- 47 The Power Plan.
Eight experts plot the road map for our energy future: an era of efficiency, diversity, security, and prosperity.
- 28 It's Alive.
Have we already found life on Mars? A few bold scientists make the case that the verdict is in —and we are not alone.
Andrew Lawler.
- 52 Unclassified.
What is a giraffe, or a pufferfish, or a person? The more we learn about species, the less distinct they seem.
Richard Conniff.
- 58 The Insanity Virus.
Schizophrenia may be caused by an ancient virus buried in every person's DNA — a theory that points to new treatments and even a cure.
Douglas Fox.
- 66 DISCOVER Interview:
Shing-Tung Yau.
The esteemed matherkable journey that took him from a childhood of poverty and privation to solving the mysteries of string theory.
Pamela Wientraub.
- 4 Contributors
- 6 Mail

8 Editor's Note

10 Data.

How climate change shaped human evolution, sound-based lasers, dark galaxies, good proteins gone bad, astronomy at 40,000 feet, a bizarre denizen of the deep, and more.

21 Five Questions for Emily Schaller.

Cloudy with a chance of methane on Titan, Saturn's oddly Earth-like moon.
Amy Barth.

22 Hot Science

New books and TV, plus artifacts that tell the story of the epic 1911 race to the South Pole.

24 Vital Signs

A long-silent infection comes roaring back.
Claire Panosian Duvanan.

26 The Brain

Maternal love can change a rat's brain—or yours— from the DNA up.
Carl Zimmer.

30 Field Notes

The remarkable tale of Galileo's moons.
Dava Sobel.

80 20 Things You Didn't Know About Dogs.

Rebecca Coffey.

On the Cover.

Photo by Nicholas Eveleigh; digital retouching by William Castellana; props by Ice Sculptures of New York.

DISCOVER ON THE WEB

Videos, breaking news, and more — the latest is online at dsicovermagazine.com