

DISCOVER

CONTENIDO

VOLUME 31 No. 10, DECEMBER 2010

COVER STORY

38 The Hot Zone.

In a warmer and increasingly crowded world, old pathogens are making a comeback, and tropical diseases are invading the United States. How will we confront the coming plague?

Linda Marsa.

46 Facing the Past.

The Faces of our ancient hominid ancestors stare back at us, conveying deep emotional and psychological life, in paleoartist John Gurche's striking reconstructions.

Jennifer Barone.

52 Inherit the Wind.

A restless engineer is developing wind turbines that will fly like kites, gathering gusts a half-mile up where they blow strong and steady. Could this be the path to cheap, clean energy?

Erik Vance.

58 Why Size Matters.

Astronomers have a dirty secret: They study planets every day, but they cannot agree on how to define what a "planet" is. In fact, the more they learn, the more baffling the universe seems.

Phil Plait.

64 Of Two Minds.

Where does consciousness come from? Neuroscientist Antonio Damasio and novelist Siri Hustvedt explore the nuances of the question, and Damasio responds with a provocative, 12-part answer.

Pamela Weintraub.

6 Contributors.

8 Editor's Note

9 Mail.

10 Data.

Starquakes. Biofuel breakthroughs, Bill Gates remakes medical research, meteorite tales, depression versus the senses, and more.

- 24 Five Questions for Nick Longrich.
How he found dinosaur mojo in a dusty museum archive.
Valerie Ross.
- 26 Vital Signs.
When antibiotics go wrong, the bacterium C. difficile can cut loose, with scary consequences.
Claire Panosian Dunavan.
- 28 The Brain.
Is music an essential adaptation that strengthens social bonds, or is it simply a fortunate accident?
Carl Zimmer.
- 30 The Best of Hot Science.
Interviews with James Cameron, Mary Roach, and Tron: Legacy director Joseph Kosinski; Stephen Colbert gives science a good name; the top books, movies, TV, and music of 2010; and what to watch for in 2011.
Dava Sobel.
- 80 20 Things You Didn't Know About Taste.
Kirsten Weir.

On the Cover.

Illustration by ARTBOMBERS.