CONTENIDO

VOLUME 22 No. 2, MARCH/APRIL 2011

FEATURES

- 26 A Winters Tale
Blending a craftsman's touch with a strong sense of graphic design, editorial photographer Dan Winters has forged a visual style as distinctive as it is versatile.
Michael Kaplan.
- 38 The Last Roll
Kodachrome has dazzled legions of fans since the 1930s. National Geographic legend Steve McCurry takes the fabled color-transparency film on a final assignment.
Jack Crager.
- 46 Plastic Fantastic
Toy cameras are all the rage—not only in the art world but also among photojournalists and commercial photographers. Here's why there's a future in plastics.
Michelle Bates.
- 54 Group Think
With help from the web, a host of emerging photo collectives and collaborative networks are convincing photographers that there's strength in numbers.

On the Cover

Steve McCurry photographed a girl from the Rabari tribe in Rajasthan, India, in June 2010 on the last roll of Kodachrome (page38).
