AMERICAN PHOTO

CONTENIDO

VOLUME 22 No. 4, JULY/AUGUST 2011

FEATURES

29 Shooting the Curl
Part paparazzi and part extreme athlete, today's surf photographers like living on the edge.
Jeff Divine.

36 Under the Sea
Five of the world's top underwater shooters tell us their favorite places to make photos.
Travis Marshall.

52 When the Levee Breaks
Pictures from a year of unprecedented watery disaster in Japan, Australian and the Midwest.
Michael Kaplan.

62 Liquid Courage
Five photographers who are using pictures of water to change the world.
Jonathan Waterman.

On the Cover

Daniel Beltrá's stunning aerial shot of the Deepwater Horizon oil slick, shot from 3,200 feet above the Gulf of Mexico.

DEPARTMENTS

Focus

13 One to Watch
Dreaming Deep.
Scott Rhea fashions his strange underwater dreamscapes with meticulous care.
Lindsay Comstock.

18 Work in Progress
The Art of the Splash.
Peter Schafrick sculpts water using time, patience and his trusty strobe lights.

Franklin Melendez.

20 Books
News of the Whirled.
Photo books that show the precarious state of the planet, as well as three that focus on water.
Jack Crager.

24 On the Wall
Summer Festivals.
Three major celebrations of the photographic arts in Europe. Books your tickets now.
Jack Crager.

26 Digital Domain
Time Machine.
Historypin plays with the past, Blurb goes mobile, three new ways to use the iPad with Photoshop.
Jack Crager.

Gear

77 Editor's Choice
Sony NEX-FS100.
The dawn of the interchangeable lens camcorder.
Jonathan Barkey.

80 Hands on
View Masters.
Optical viewfinders vs. electronic viewfinders. Fight!
Jonathan Barkey.

News

88 Industry Biz
Japan's Camera Makers Rebuild.
Taking stock of how the earthquake and tsunami affected the camera industry.
Brian Ashcraft.

96 Parting Shot
Total Immersion.
To shoot the Bajau Laut, James Morgan needed to get in deep.
Scott Alexander.